SUMMER READING FOR ALL AGES IS ON AT HALTON HILLS PUBLIC LIBRARY Captain Underpants to attend official launch June 16

HALTON HILLS, ON – Halton Hills Public Library’s summer reading clubs and challenges for adults, teens and kids are set to gear up at the annual launch party Saturday, June 16, with a very special guest for kids!

TD Summer Reading Club Launch

Canada’s biggest bilingual summer reading program for kids of all ages is back once again! Starting with the library’s big launch party, kids can come in and pick up their Summer Reading Club packages to get them started on their new reading adventure. That’s not all: kids can meet the one and only Captain Underpants who will be stopping by both branches to meet his fans! Lots of fun and freezies too to help beat the heat.

Adult/Teen Summer Reading Challenge

This summer the library challenges you to explore your passions and read something new, read more often, and have fun! Sign up to earn ballots for every challenge you complete and enter to win some great prizes. Challenge packages will be available at the official launch and throughout the summer.

The library’s popular One Book, One Halton Hills event is happening soon; the chosen title will be announced later this month. Readers will have even more fascinating reads to share together. Each year the library selects one intriguing book to encourage the community to bond together and share their thoughts. Titles in the past have included “Painted Girls,” by Cathy Marie Buchanan, and “Motorcycles and Sweetgrass” by Drew Hayden Taylor. This year’s title will not disappoint: we promise excitement, adventure, and intrigue, so stay tuned for the official announcement!
